

+Brand Awareness

For 9 days in Brooklyn and parts of New York City, Drinkfinity brand ambassadors visited high-traffic areas in a guerrilla marketing campaign that proved highly successful for brand awareness and distributed over 10,000 starter kits to new Drinkfinity users. The campaign achieved over 860K impressions and generated nearly 9,000 leads for Drinkfinity.

The campaign included:

- 1 mobile billboard
- 1 sampling van to carry product, totes & coupons
- Team of brand ambassadors
- Selfie cut-out frame for social promotion
- Tablets to collect names and emails
- Mobile display ads served to niche audience

+199%

Branded Searches During Activation*

-27%

Cost Per Qualified Visit

+141%

Qualified Visits (Pre vs During)

Drinkfinity's mobile display ads were served to a niche audience: A24-35 who are enthusiasts of the environment, social issues and health/fitness.

Ads were served within close proximity to each activation site every day. Retargeting was also employed to remind consumers to redeem their promotional code online.

The Stuyvesant Heights area of Brooklyn had the highest click-through-rate performance:

0.64% CTR

ABOUT DRINKFINITY®

Drinkfinity is a PepsiCo venture and has its home in Miami, Florida, where it has always tried to act as an independent company. Drinkfinity pods contain both dry and liquid ingredients and are sealed separately until the moment the Pod is popped. When placed into its vessel, the pod transforms your water into a delicious 20oz beverage, with no artificial flavors or artificial sweeteners.

*Drinkfinity had only one additional OOH placement in market during activation time.

do it outdoors media is the largest national mobile billboard and field marketing company.

doitoutdoors.com

